

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY. - MAY 19, 1899

W. P. WALTON.

HON. JOHN S. RHEA made his promised speech at Owensboro Monday in answer to Hardin's speech at the same place, in which he charged that the financial plan in the 1895 platform was written by Rhea and revised by Mr. J. B. Thompson, or written by Thompson and revised by Rhea. Hardin denied in an interview that he had made the charge, but Rhea upon investigation found from the stenographer's report and the testimony of reputable gentlemen that he did make the statement beyond doubt. Mr. Rhea stated that he was satisfied that Hardin had been correctly reported, although he had seen Hardin the day before in Louisville and traveled on the same train with him, and Hardin had had other opportunities to correct or explain, but had never done so. He then went on to show how timorous Hardin was about a radical free silver plank in the Owensboro railroad commissioners' convention, saying it would hurt his canvass for governor, but he and Blackburn said to him, "You shall fight or run." At this convention after Blackburn had made a free silver speech, calls were made for Hardin, but he bowed and said, "I'll see you later." Afterward at Frankfort when Hardin was asked what he would do if the State convention adopted a gold platform, he replied: "I am glad to have an opportunity to speak. No man is greater than his party, and I will accept the nomination on any platform." At the Louisville convention the free silver leaders for 24 hours besieged Hardin for his views as to organization of convention, but his answer always was "wait for Norman." Joe Blackburn and others protested against Beckner, a gold standard man for chairman, being named for the place, but finally agreed to it on the assurance that silver men would be appointed on the committee on resolutions from the State-at-large. The appointment of Senator Lindsay was therefore in bad faith, and the speaker said he could prove that Hardin asked members to vote for the Lindsay resolution. Mercer county voted for the resolutions and Rhea voted his county against them and against Hardin. Rhea said that Edward Drake told him that Hardin had tried to get Drake to vote against Rhea for a place on the committee on resolutions. At the Chicago convention, Rhea said Hardin was lobbying in Grover Cleveland's headquarters, denouncing every democrat who was against him. This looks like he was blazing the way to the Chicago platform and to Bryan, the speaker sarcastically continued. The whole speech was a deadener for Hardin, whose free silver record won't bear the test, notwithstanding he egotistically speaks of the cause of silver as "My Cause," and says his defeat would be heralded as a defeat of that cause. Instead of having convictions that he would not yield for a crown, as he dramatically said in the campaign of 1895, it appears that Hardin had no fixed principles and was so anxious for the nomination that he would accept it on any sort of an old platform. The truth is, Mr. Hardin deliberately butchered the party in 1895 and democrats ought to see that the chronic office seeker is given no further chance to do so. Personally we have the kindest feelings for Mr. Hardin, and have shown it by supporting him many times in the last score of years, but we protest against doing so any longer and hope the party will give us a new and more deserving man.

SENATOR GOEHL proved by the record that Mr. Hardin's charge that he had voted against the McCain Anti-Trust bill in 1890, was untrue, and said it was a plain, unmitigated falsehood, and characterized it as the desperate effort of a dying opponent. In plainer English, this means that the charge is a lie and that the author is a liar. Mr. Hardin will have to eat and come again.

THE Mt. Sterling Gazette layout seems to want to hog all the pismmons. Editor John C. Wood has been renominated for railroad commissioner and Associate Editor T. J. Young has announced for secretary of State on the republican ticket. The latter, however, will catch at the shadow. Wood may again enjoy the substance.

THE republican candidates for governor are wiser in their day and generation than those of the democracy, and will conduct a still hunt campaign, making no speeches prior to the convention. By that means they hope to avoid personalities and not make the breach any wider than it is.

It is said that Gov. Bradley will be absent from the State two weeks more. By that time Worthington will have pardoned all the convicts and there will be no need for a governor, according to the greenup man's idea of what a governor is chosen for.

THE Whitley Republican is dead. It has for some time been thought to be wormy.

WE have been about a little in our time and seen this great country from the lakes to the gulf and from one ocean far toward the other, but we have never beheld a more beautiful portion of God's footstool than a "fly" over Boyle, Mercer, Jessamine and Fayette disclosed at this time of the year. The rich foliage of the trees on a carpet of eternal green, the waving wheat, the corn fields springing into vigorous life, with handsome houses dotting the landscape of hill and dale decked with fat cattle and horses, go to form a kaleidoscope of changing beauty that makes the heart swell with wonder and praise. With every prospect pleasing, with women beautiful of face and ravishing of figure to woo and win for sweet and loving wives, the man that could be vile in such a country, under such circumstances and in such a lap of luxury, deserves to be banished to the Dry Tortugas, or some other place equally as bad sounding of name, there to feel forever the tortures of that crown of sorrows, the remembering of better things.

THE fellow who went into the office of Editor Mott Ayres, of the Daily Leader, at Fulton, and demanded a retraction of a certain article, was politely told that his request would be granted if he would produce proof that it was untrue. Instead of producing it, if he had any, the man jumped on the editor, but was soon glad to jump off. In fact he was so severely handled that he begged for mercy and when it was granted, took a bee line to the street, forgetting all about the retraction that he went to demand. The public ought to know by this time that we editors are bad meddlesome and not attempt to carry a point by force. It can't be did.

Gov. WORTHINGTON continues to work the pardon machine vigorously for 24 hours besieged Hardin for his views as to organization of convention, but his answer always was "wait for Norman." Joe Blackburn and others protested against Beckner, a gold standard man for chairman, being named for the place, but finally agreed to it on the assurance that silver men would be appointed on the committee on resolutions from the State-at-large. The appointment of Senator Lindsay was therefore in bad faith, and the speaker said he could prove that Hardin asked members to vote for the Lindsay resolution. Mercer county voted for the resolutions and Rhea voted his county against them and against Hardin. Rhea said that Edward Drake told him that Hardin had tried to get Drake to vote against Rhea for a place on the committee on resolutions. At the Chicago convention, Rhea said Hardin was lobbying in Grover Cleveland's headquarters, denouncing every democrat who was against him. This looks like he was blazing the way to the Chicago platform and to Bryan, the speaker sarcastically continued. The whole speech was a deadener for Hardin, whose free silver record won't bear the test, notwithstanding he egotistically speaks of the cause of silver as "My Cause," and says his defeat would be heralded as a defeat of that cause. Instead of having convictions that he would not yield for a crown, as he dramatically said in the campaign of 1895, it appears that Hardin had no fixed principles and was so anxious for the nomination that he would accept it on any sort of an old platform. THE officials at the Frankfort penitentiary having notified Sheriff Owens that as the small-pox scare was over, prisoners would be received from here. Deputy C. H. Owens left Wednesday morning with John Will Welch for that place. Welch, who is colored, got a year at the February term for stealing a pistol and razor from J. W. Haughman.

NOT THAT KING OF DOCTOR.—While Dr. Price was busily engaged Wednesday in repairing the teeth of a young lady, a colored woman rushed in and asked him to examine her heart, as it was not beating right. As the doctor is only versed in the game of hearts with the girls, he directed the "euiled queen" to Dr. Peyton's office further down the hall.

HURLAIR entered W. H. Shanks' home in the country the other night and took a general survey of things, but if they got anything save a cake it hasn't been missed. Mrs. Shanks thought she heard them but her husband was too deep in the arms of Morphew to notice such things. Matches were dropped on the parlor floor and several small holes burned in it. Entrance was effected by prizing open the door to the dining room.

THE tobacco manufactory of R. S. Martin at Junction City is not only a money maker for its owner, but a useful one to the community in giving employment to those who are dependant on their own labor for support. Some 25 to 30 men, women, boys and girls find employment in it and earn good wages. Two hogsheads of tobacco a week are worked up into the numerous brands that Mr. Martin makes, all of which are popular, with the Brodhead Twist especially so. Mr. Martin is a Confederate veteran, and although handicapped by lameness resulting from wounds, has fought the battles of life successfully, when pension drawers would have laid on their oars and let the government do the work.

REV. J. K. KING will not fill his regular appointment at Walnut Flat Sunday. He is attending the general assembly at Denver, Col.

Mr. O. V. Riley has been honored by being selected to deliver the annual address to the alumni of the State College at Lexington on May 31st.—Pineville Courier.

WHILE many of the grape vines here were killed by the frost down to the roots, it does not seem to have been the case in Fayette. The vines are full of bloom and promise to yield abundantly.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

There are 120 entries in the Louisville primary.

Gen. P. W. Hardin is making a half dozen or more speeches in Warren county.

Deboe has asked the postmaster general to appoint C. C. Wallace postmaster at Richmond.

It is reported that a reconciliation has been effected between Col. Jack Chin and Senator Bronson.

Gen. Wade Hampton has written a card declining to accept the proposed donation of a house from the people of South Carolina.

Ex-President Harrison has gone to England as chief counsel for Venezuela in the boundary arbitration proceedings.

Muske Hall, the old Lederkranz, has been selected in which to hold the democratic State convention at Louisville, the auditorium being unobtainable owing to the summer opera.

Collector John W. Verkes has appointed G. N. Jean a division deputy. He succeeds J. C. Wilson, of Harrodsburg, who resigned the deputyship and will have a place as store keeper again.

Old Senator Peffer, of Kansas, has tired of editing a populist paper, and has slipped back into the republican party, where he says his heart has been all the time save on the money question.

If Gosbel was a "gold bug" in '95, why is it that such silver men as Pryor, Brown, Ellis, Rhea, James, Godington and every other free silver leader in the State prefer him to Hardin now?—Shelbyville Sentinel.

The democrats in Maine nominated a candidate to succeed Dingley in Congress and passed this resolution: "McKinleyism, which has given the country political bossism, relentless, grasping truism, blatant Eaganism, criminal Algerism and rotten heitism—in a word, unadulterated, unreasoning and detestable modern republicanism and un-American imperialism" is heartily condemned.

THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.
A mercury will surely destroy the sensual and completely derange the whole system when taken in large quantities. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is far to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Anti-Scorbutic, manufactured by J. H. Hall, Co., Toledo, O., is safe, non-toxic, and is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and nervous surfaces of the system. In taking Hall's Cataract Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

All the poems I have written
Were piled together in a pile,
And with a cannie they were written,
You could see the blaze a mile.
But all the gold that I have gotten
For the poems I have wrote
Would not hurt the feeblest kitten
If poured melted down its throat.

MIDDLEBURY.

The Baptists, by a unanimous vote,
Saturday, voted to allow the G. A. R.
the use of the church lot on dereration day.

Geo. R. Jeter has bought a stock of drugs and fixtures of John Tomlinson at Yosemite, and moved them to this place.

Misses Lula and Nora Lucas, of Sherman, Texas, are visiting relatives here.
They are grand-daughters of Col. and Mrs. H. H. McAnle.

The bitter fight between Hardin and Goebel is causing many of their friends to desert them, at least such is the case here. It is now thought that Casey will instruct for Stone instead of Hardin, which seemed certain a few weeks ago. T. S. B.

The Liberty pike has lately been treated with a much needed coat of gravel.

Capt. Green delivered two eloquent discourses Sunday and Sunday night at the Baptist church to good sized audiences. The captain will move to Middleburg next week.

Two Mormons have been preaching in Casey county for the past year or more, but it seems with little or no success. Their last meetings have been at Turkey Knob.

Should Senator Goebel come out triumphant at Louisville, the followers of Stone and Hardin will have one consolation—that we will have a good governor, who will wisely administer affairs.

The following young ladies and gentlemen from this neck will take the examination at Liberty Friday and Saturday:
Misses Lula Adams, Jessie Bryant and Bessie Fogle; Messrs. O. R. Jones, J. R. Staton, Dudley Wesley and Karentz Kolmon.

Some mention was made in the I. J.
a couple of weeks ago as to the candidacy of our fellow-citizen and town-man, G. R. Jeter, for representative.
The party in this part of the county is a unit for him, and as it is Casey's turn to name the man, she will no doubt name Mr. Jeter, who is one of the very few who can poll the entire democratic vote and scare the rads to death (as he did last fall) by making inroads in that party.

Mrs. Mollic Durham and son, Brack, are visiting relatives in Lancaster and Danville. Theo. Wesley and wife, of McKinney, visited Dr. Wesley and family Saturday and Sunday. Miss Sallie Scott, of Perryville, has been visiting friends and relatives in Middieburg and Lanhamtown the past few days. Miss Lizzie Culton is visiting Miss Mary Lucas. George R. Jeter attended the State meeting of the Knights of Maccabees at Frankfort and was elected State sentinel. Dr. L. J.
Godfrey is attending the medical meeting at Louisville this week. Misses Lunar and Nora Lucas, of Van Alstyne, Texas, are visiting relatives in this section. Thomas Vickery, a few weeks ago, is back home and as well as ever.
Milton Jones has moved to his newly erected cottage.

The soldiers reunion and decoration committee met at Keeney's Hall Tuesday night and transacted some much needed business. While no exact spot is settled on, the exercises will be held some where in town, and not at Yose-mite or Green River church as has several times been reported in several localities. Good speakers have been engaged. Every man, woman and child in a radius of five miles of town is expected to be here with a basket of grub. It will take something to feed the large crowd that is expected to attend and no one in this immediate neighborhood will be welcome without he or she helps to feed the crowd. Of course visitors at a distance are not expected to bring dinner. A hint to the wise is sufficient. This is a soldiers reunion; a reunion of the veterans of '61-5, and not a G. A. R. reunion, as those who wore the gray are invited as well as those who wore the blue. The gallant old Col. R. J. Breckinridge, who for the Lost Cause, has been invited to deliver an address. C. C.

to protest against "the barbarism of lynching."
